

NEGROES MOVE OUT OF EAST ST. LOUIS; TROOPS ON GUARD

Militia Companies Ready to Suppress Further Outbreaks; 7 Persons Wounded.

SOME HOMES DAMAGED

Disturbances in Two Days Over Labor Influx Cause Many Arrests of Armed Men.

Six companies of the Illinois National Guard today patrolled the sections of East St. Louis where renewed rioting occurred last night, in which three white men and two negroes suffered gunshot wounds.

A considerable number of negro families moved out of East St. Louis today, the departures including those who had lived there for years, as well as the recently arrived laborers from the South, against whom the violence of last night and Monday night was chiefly directed.

The guardsmen will be distributed tonight, it was announced, among five blocks, at three points on Bond avenue from Fifth to Thirty-third street, at Eighth street and Bowman avenue, at City Hall Park. Automobiles have been furnished for their use in case of further disturbances.

The troops include five Fourth Regiment companies from Vandalia, Olney, Newton, Carbondale and Benton, and a cavalry troop, unmounted, from Springfield. There were about 350 men on duty this morning, but later arrivals are expected to increase this number to 400 or more. Some of the men, because of the brevity of the notice given to them yesterday, were not in full uniform.

Federal Troops Troops Not Called. The two companies of the Sixth Illinois, a Federalized command, which have been in East St. Louis for some time, have not been called on for riot duty, although such a call has been authorized in case of emergency. There are 200 men in these companies.

Mayor Molloy said he would probably repeat his order of yesterday, the closing of saloons at 5 p. m., but that he would not again close the moving picture shows, as these might help to keep persons off the streets. He said the police and soldiers would not permit crowds to form in front of theaters.

In justice courts fines of $200 each were imposed on a number of negroes arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

Twelve East St. Louis negroes, arrested in St. Louis, were sent across Eads bridge at noon by the St. Louis police, and five of them were held by the East Side authorities on concealed weapon charges. One negro was arrested on the Free Bridge as he attempted to take into East St. Louis a rifle and cartridges concealed in a box.

In a disturbance in "Whiskey chute," near the Stockyards, about 6 o'clock last evening, before the arrival of the Fourth Regiment, Hardy Harris, a negro employee of Swift & Co., was shot in the left breast. He is in a serious condition at the Deaconess Hospital. Soon after this, Charles Irvin, a negro, was shot in the left side by one of a group of men who attacked him at Collinsville and St. Clair avenues. He was sent to the same hospital, and is in a critical condition.

Soldiers Disperse Rioters. At 8.30, after two of the companies had arrived in town, but before they had left the city hall, a crowd, largely of young men and boys, moved on the negro settlement in the old "Valley" district, at First street and Pennsylvania avenue. Stones and bricks were thrown, and shots were fired on both sides, before the Vandalia company arrived, and by ostentatiously loading their guns with steel-jacketed bullets, dispersed the crowd.

Nearly all front windows in negro houses in this part of the "Valley" were broken, and the fronts of some of the frame houses were smashed. A negro church at Third street and Illinois avenue was stoned, the windows being broken.

There were minor disturbances in the neighborhood of the packing plants and near the aluminum works, before soldiers arrived. A negro home at 14 North Third street was burned, and a crowd hindered firemen in their efforts to save it.

Two of the white men who were wounded were railroad employees and are believed to have been shot by negroes who had fled to the railroad yards for safety, carrying weapons. Thomas Michie, a special agent for the R. & O., was shot in the leg by a negro who was holding in a box car. C. E. Bagwell, a terminal switchman, was slightly wounded in the neck when he was walking at Fifth street and Division avenue, and A. E. Larkins, of 44 North Fourth street, was wounded in the right leg at about the same time and in the same locality. Negroes, hiding behind box cars, fired at them as they approached. None of the white men was seriously wounded.

Order Restored at Midnight. The last general gathering of the rioters, after 11 o'clock, at Division and Collinsville avenues, was opposed by a line of soldiers, who blocked streets which led to the negro quarter. Deputy sheriffs, with riot guns, were stationed in the alley. There was a small disturbance at Twelfth street and Tremblay avenue about midnight, but this was quickly quieted.

AMERICAN LEGION PUTS FLAG BESIDE ST. PAUL'S ALTAR

Banner Placed in Cathedral With Impressive Ceremonies to Remain to End of War.

LONDON, May 30.—It was like another America day at St. Paul's today when the colors of the American Legion in the Canadian contingent were placed beside the altar to remain there until after the war. There were five flags, one from each battalion—the 9th, 21st, 25th, 33rd and 27th. They were escorted to the Cathedral by 500 Canadian soldiers.

As the troops passed up the central aisle, the crowd which filled the glory of the Cathedral of the Lord, and "Onward, Christian Soldiers." At the conclusion of the service, "The Star-Spangled Banner" was sung, followed by "God Save the King."

The service was attended by Ambassador Paque, Consul-General Shinn, high officers of the Canadian forces and physicians and nurses from the Red Cross units which have arrived here most recently from St. Louis and Philadelphia. The silk flag of the 9th battalion had the place of honor, surrounded by smaller flags of the other four battalions.

SUBMARINES CARRY BUZZ SAW TO CUT THROUGH STEEL NETS

British Ship Washington Sunk Only Seven Miles From Genoa.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Officers of the steamship Virginia who arrived at an American port today brought word of the sinking of the British freight steamship Washington by a German submarine on May 3. The Washington was torpedoed, they asserted, only seven miles from Genoa, after the naval convoy had left the steamship believing it was safe from attack. The explosion was heard by persons ashore, they declared. "The Virginia's officers said the U-boats operating in the Mediterranean have become so bold they go almost into harbors, planting mines and cutting nets. They declared the German submarines are equipped with net cutting apparatus, a 'device like a buzz saw,' they described it, which cuts a net 'like a hot knife through butter.'"

AMERICAN SLACKERS IN JUAREZ

Mexican Officials Say They Offer to Release Them for Border Patrol Duty.

JUAREZ, Mex., May 30.—American slackers here have applied for places in stores and offices, offering to work for their board and room for several months to escape the selective draft. The newly organized regiment of Mexicans who applied were of ages which would make them liable for military service.

The matter has been reported to American civil authorities in charge of registration. Investigations are being made in Juarez, Chihuahua City and other Mexican cities to ascertain how many American slackers there are.

STREET "COLLECTIONS" BARRED

Police Order Makes No Exception of Charitable Organizations.

An order was issued at police headquarters last night to stop street "collections." It contains no exceptions of the Salvation Army or other charitable organizations and applies to those who accept voluntary contributions as well as those who solicit alms.

The order was issued as a result of a conference between Police Commissioners and a committee representing the Chamber of Commerce.

RUSSIAN THIEVES PLACARDED

Novel Measures Taken to Suppress Robbery in Barracks.

PETROGRAD, May 30.—Novel measures to suppress robbery in soldiers' barracks have been put into practice in Petrograd. A captured thief was forced to walk along the Nevsky Prospect, hearing placards with the inscription: "I stole sugar and shoes from soldiers' barracks and am now in prison."

A similar story comes from Besarabia, where a clerk of the war organization was accused of stealing a horse. A yoke was placed about his neck and he was exhibited on a platform erected in a public square.

GIRL NEVER ABSENT OR TARDY

Honors for Miss Edna F. Sparks of Edwardsville at Graduation.

At the annual commencement exercises of the Edwardsville High School last night, unusual honors were accorded to Miss Edna F. Sparks of Edwardsville, who has never been absent or tardy in the 11 years of her school life.

Recognition was also given to the three boys of the class who enlisted last month in the army. Their diplomas were tied with the national colors instead of the customary white ribbon and their chairs were draped with flags.

GERMAN MOVE TO KEEP SINGERS

COPENHAGEN, May 30.—Despite the effect of the war, the German Stage League will this week pass upon the so-called American treaty pledging the German opera stage to boycott for five years any singer who leaves Germany to accept a more profitable engagement in the United States.

The boycott proposal is fathered by Count von Seebach, director of the Royal Theaters, which have been particularly unfortunate in losing stars, not only to America but also to other German theaters which pay better salaries.

Only One Afternoon Paper Issued in New York, May 30.—Only one afternoon newspaper was published here today—the New York Telegram. The other newspapers decided not to issue today to conserve white paper.

EACH REGIMENT SOON TO HAVE 42 MACHINE GUNS

Weapon's Capacity Is 300 Shots a Minute, Making Total of 12,600.

RIFLE FIRE INCREASED

New Unit Can Fire 36,600 Shots Every 60 Seconds, 16,600 More Than Formerly.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 30.—According to information made public by Brigadier-General James Parker, acting commander of the Southern Department, sweeping changes are to be made in army organization with the special purpose of increasing the machine gun strength of infantry regiments.

Under the present regulations each infantry regiment has one machine gun company, with four machine guns. The new plan calls for a machine gun company for each battalion, or three to the regiment, with 14 machine guns for each company, or a total of 42 for the regiment.

300 Shots a Minute. The Benet-Mercier machine gun, the rapid-fire arm in general use in the United States Army, will fire a maximum of 300 shots a minute. Thus a regiment equipped under the new organization could let loose a machine gun storm of lead at the rate of 12,600 shots a minute, whereas under the present equipment 1200 machine gun shots a minute would be the maximum fire.

The improved Springfield repeating rifle, used by American soldiers will fire 12 shots a minute. On a basis of 2400 rifles to a regiment on war basis, 24,000 rifle shots could be fired in a minute. This total added to the machine gun shots, 12,600 gives 36,600 as the total number of shots that could be fired in a minute by a regiment under the proposed reorganization.

During the Spanish-American war, when few machine guns were used and the best that rifles could do was 10 shots a minute, 20,000 shots was the maximum firing total of a regiment in minutes. The newly organized regiments will have a firing capacity of 16,600 more shots than the old units.

Divisions Are Cut Down. Under the previous plans an army division has consisted of approximately 15,000 men. The new order fixes a division at two brigades, a total of approximately 10,000 men. Each brigade will be made up of four regiments, this applying to infantry only.

Infantry companies will have 200 men instead of 150. There will be one captain, one first and two second lieutenants. Formerly there were only two lieutenants. A battalion will consist of three infantry companies and machine gun companies. The machine gun companies will have one captain, two first lieutenants and one second lieutenant, with 141 men. Under the new plan an infantry regiment will contain 2681 men and 57 officers.

PRESIDENT PARDONS ILLINOISAN

Percy B. Sullivan of Decatur Was Convicted of Using Mail to Defraud Bank. Pardon Granted by President Wilson.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—President Wilson has granted a pardon to Percy B. Sullivan of Decatur, Ill., president of the Assurance National Mutual Insurance Co. Sullivan was convicted in 1915 of using the mails for fraudulent purposes in connection with the operation of his company. Officials of the Department of Justice who handled the case are said to have recommended clemency.

Sullivan came to Washington to personally present his plea for his liberty.

BERLIN, WIS., WANTS NEW NAME

BERLIN, Wis., May 30.—Citizens of this city are seriously considering changing the name of the place.

The Indian name Mascoutia is said to be favorably considered by many citizens, this being the name of the tribe of Indians who first located the townsite.

BOYS OF '61 MARCH IN AUTOS; BOYS OF '17 SALUTE THEM

Flowers Showered on Civil War Veterans Along Union Boulevard in Rainstorm.

TRIP MADE TO BARRACKS

Day's Ceremonies Close There With G. A. R. Ritual Exercises and Decoration of Graves.

The boys of '61 assembled today to give Decoration day honors to their dead comrades, but they did not trudge along as they have so often done. They "marched" today in automobiles. The boys who, went with Sherman to the sea, or tramped through the mud of the Shenandoah Valley are not as spry as they used to be.

From their auto cushions they responded to the salutes of the spry ones of '17, whose work is still to be done.

Where in other years thousands in Grand Army blue, marched miles through the streets there are now only hundreds, and while they yet have the spirit to march, it is best that they ride.

They assembled at the Second Baptist Church, King's highway and Washington boulevard, where automobiles of "61" were lined up in rows.

Through a court of honor of military organizations and boy scouts to Union boulevard, north to Cabanne branch library and countermarch to Forest Park, the veterans receiving the cheers and flowers of school children along the boulevard, and a salute of 21 guns from Battery A at the park.

In each automobile, with the veterans, rode a boy scout, whose duty it was to receive flowers from the hands of the school children while the procession moved slowly along the boulevard, and give them to the old soldiers.

After the salute the procession moved through the Forest Park drives and the boulevards adjacent and the troops south on King's highway through Tower Grove and Carondelet parks to Jefferson Barracks, to be escorted by regulars to the cemetery for the Grand Army of the Republic ritual exercises and the decoration of graves.

Rain began falling when the procession was approaching Union boulevard on Lindell boulevard. The downpour became heavier while the procession moved north on Union boulevard. On the countermarch to the park the "61" came down in torrents. But women and children lined up on Union boulevard to shower the veterans with flowers, stood their ground and threw their flowers in the automobile when the rain rolled past. They and the mounted police and members of Troop B were soaked. At the park the rain turned to hail and a little while later the sun was shining again.

The order was issued at noon and mail was delivered only until 10 o'clock. The afternoon was generally observed as a holiday.

Former Judge Thomas L. Anderson is the orator at the flag-raising exercises at Kirkwood. A holiday has been proclaimed by Mayor Joseph R. Matthews and business is suspended. At the flag-raising the program calls for a salute by the second section of Battery A and a parade in which Companies E, I and J of the National Guard, the Kirkwood Home Guards, Boy Scouts and students of the public and parochial schools will participate.

The Kirkwood Ladies' Home Circle, composed of mothers and sisters of Kirkwood young men who have enlisted, will serve an outdoor dinner to the soldiers present. The flag to be raised, which is 9 by 18 feet, is a gift to the city from Mayor Matthews and all city officials, as well as the 75-foot steel pole erected at the junction of Main street and Kirkwood road.

Bohemian National Alliance Observes Memorial Day at Its Hall. The Relief Committee of the Bohemian National Alliance is celebrating the day at Bohemian National Hall, Dolman street and Allen avenue. A program beginning at 3 o'clock will conclude this evening with dramatic numbers. The speakers are James R. Dunn, chairman of the Americanization Committee; Prof. Fred Plisecky, who has just come from Russia, who witnessed the revolution at Petrograd, and Prof. Charles Hosek, of Cleveland High School. On the program also are orchestral and vocal music numbers and a gymnastic exhibition.

AMERICAN SCHOONER TORPEDOED

Crew of Magnus Manned of Mobile Is Saved.

MOBILE, Ala., May 30.—The American five-masted schooner Magnus Manned, Capt. W. H. Williams master, 124 tons of this city, has been torpedoed off the French coast, according to cablegrams received here today.

The Magnus was bound for Genoa, Italy, from Pensacola, Fla., with a cargo of lumber. The officer and crew of the vessel were saved. The loss will be $200,000 to the owners.

Agent and salesman opening are waiting for good men. See today's wants.

Rostand, in Long Poem to the Stars and Stripes, Celebrates Our Entry Into the War

EDMOND ROSTAND, France's poet laureate, celebrates America's entrance into the war with a poem, entitled "The Song of the Stars—The Starry Flag." The following translation has been made for the Post-Dispatch:

By EDMOND ROSTAND. (Translated for the Post-Dispatch by James E. Craig.)

"SIR," said the ugly man, his hat removing, so— The gesture of a half-mad thing dreamed by an Edgar Poe— (His gargoyle head was such a one as Faivre might design: His rings were gold, his chain was gold, his teeth a dentist's sign.) "Sir," said the ugly little man, "I've found the way at last!"

"In humble mien, in masquerade, I've lived these three years past, American in guise and name the while I sought to win One flutter from the starry flag for mine own home and kin. And yet, alas, no kindness within that emblem stirs, Though soft I speak and doff my hat, as do its worshippers. Unto its white I made my plea—more often to its red— 'And wave! Once for the Fatherland! Incessant prayer I sped; 'For Germany, O Freedom's flag! But limp it hangs and still, As it were leaden weights it knows no life nor thrill. Its folds drop down as if no breeze could flout them to the sky. And yet, if but the one word, 'France,' in whisper soft I sigh, A tremor through its fabric runs and quick I check the word, Forewarned to halt, ere 'tis too late, emotions I have stirred.

"Sir, three long years in vain I've sought to find the reason why Along its staff, quiescent, dull, the bright-hued flag should lie, Unmoved, inert, expressionless, a dead thing without wings, When any wind from Germany should stir all sentient things! For three long years I've sought and sought in vain to understand Why, obstinate, it shrinks away as scornful of my hand, Stilled by that foolish, stubborn thing called Honor by mankind. Yet not unchooled in fawning craft or insolence my mind, For I from Wagner learned the art of winning hearts with smiles; From Treitschke how to steal the will; from Bismarck bluffs and wiles. Though elephantine in my way, I keep a steady track, Hitched up with Hartmann in the team, with Haackel and Harnack. And, lest my strength should dissipate, I start my daily toil With Nietzsche's ointment well rubbed in—his Zarathustra oil. Thus, high of heart and confident, I thought ere now to brag The easiest of victories, seduction of a flag. The boasted standard of the land of virtue, freemen men.

"Alas, I failed. For I but spoke of Belgium's fate and then Around the staff in high disdain its fold drew from my clutch, As women draw their skirts away from some vile creature's touch. I made excuse for wronged Louvain, its devastation vast— The flag drooped sorrowfully low as standing at half mast! A shudder through its texture ran as it had felt it shame That every German soldier holds the means to start a flame. And said the staff: 'No Nelson knew nor Ganteaume felt the dread That night might bring drowned women's ghosts, avengers of the dead!'

"Do they drown women?" asked the silk, and 'Yes,' I made reply And doffed my hat. The pliant silk turned rigid to my eye, As one who, haughty and aggrieved, would make resentments known Without reproaches spoken. A strange thing, that, I own! What inspiration from on high within this flag doth dwell?

"Is it the force of an ideal alone that makes it swell Unto the breeze? I know. That which resists me well Why lifts it to the faintest gales from far-off France that blow And tugs as storm-lashed sails tug at restraining spars, Held by its ropes? I know it now. It is the stars!

"Ah, I had failed to count upon the stars! Up there They were so high one might o'erlook them in the air. Sir, you might think these crusty, hard-head Saxon folk, Laughing, had stuck them off there as a joke. There in their corner evermore to be forgot. And yet They need those stars, reminding them no people may forget.

That from on high come Pity, Justice, Truth, And so, Whenever to weave a flag the spool flies to and fro, Gravely the worker into the silken mesh will run The filmy, silver thread whereof bright stars are spun. Wherefore behold them there, in five bright ranks arrayed, Close to the sturdy staff an astral host displayed.

"Still, all my troubles came from these bright-pointed stars—

SOCIALISTS REGISTER FOR DRAFT

Among those who have filed absentee registration blanks at the office of City Registrar: Witter because they will be out of the city on June 8 are four or five Socialists, who have claimed exemption on the ground that they are members of that party, which is opposed to war.

ITALIANS ADVANCE THEIR LINE

Gains Are Made Near Medea on Road to Trieste—Vienna Says Numerous Attacks Have Been Repulsed.

Violent Artillery Duel in Progress Near St. Quentin

German Attack in Champagne Beaten Off.

Raiding Activity on Northern Part of British Front Continues; Aviators on Both Sides Busy.

ROME, May 30.—Further gains by the Italians on the Trieste front is announced in today's official statement. The Italian lines have been extended west of Medea, which is northwest of Duino, the great natural barrier on the road to Trieste.

"The artillery was not so active yesterday on the Trentino front and in Carnia," says the War Office report. "But the fire was very heavy on the Julian front, particularly in the sector from Mont Cucco to Mont Vodice and east of Gorizia. The enemy again operated in his attacks upon our trenches on Hill 62. Three successive attacks after intense artillery fire failed completely. We captured some 30 prisoners."

"On the Carso the work of strengthening our lines is proceeding actively. An enemy assault attempted east of Boscovale was broken by our battery fire."

"Between Jamiano and the coast we extended by local offensive actions our occupation of ground west of Medea. On Monday afternoon an enemy airplane was brought down in a severe air fight east of Mont San Marco."

Violent Artillery Duel in Progress South of St. Quentin.

PARIS, May 30.—Violent artillery firing occurred on the French front south of St. Quentin during the night, according to the official statement issued by the War Office this morning. A German attack on Mont Blond in Champagne was repulsed, the Germans leaving dead and wounded on the field.

The statement says: "Violent artillery fighting and patrol encounters occurred south of St. Quentin in the Champagne. A German attack, delivered by special units in an attempt to approach our trenches south of Mont Blond, was repulsed. Driven back by the violence of our fire, the enemy abandoned dead and wounded. We took prisoners and also captured one machine gun and a flame-protecting device."

"On the left bank of the Meuse we attacked the German lines at Hill 20, destroying important defensive works and bringing back 10 prisoners."

Vienna Reports Continued Repulse of Italian Attacks.

VIENNA, via London, May 30.—The official communication from Austrian headquarters, issued yesterday, said: "After a quiet Whitsunday, the Italian battle line resumed yesterday for the third time. A new and last enemy attacking wave now is being directed against the heights of Vodice and Monte Santo."

"An Italian attack launched at noon against the north slope was preceded by powerful artillery fire. It extended along the entire sector. During the afternoon it resulted many times in severe hand-to-hand fighting, which also raged during the night. Especially violent fighting occurred in the region of Hill 62. The entire sector of our front offered iron resistance to all the enemy's efforts. Northeast of Gorizia we took 200 prisoners from the Italians while repulsing a surprise attack launched by them."

"South of Jamiano the enemy yesterday morning attacked our positions four times, losing, besides heavy casualties, 15 officers and 500 prisoners. The number of prisoners brought in since the commencement of the tenth Italian battle amounts to 14,500 men."

German Forces in East Africa Being Pursued Southward.

LONDON, May 30.—An official communication concerning the operations in East Africa says: "The exceptionally wet season has ended and the improved weather conditions have brought a renewal of military activity. The early days of May witnessed a general southward movement of the German forces in the Rufiji valley and in the coastal area north of some of the Matende valley, while further south raiders invaded Portuguese territory and approached the border of Nyasaland, burning villages, terrorizing the inhabitants and removing food supplies to German depots."

"There were many patrol encounters and occasional collisions between larger forces. The German columns which evacuated the Mahenge district in February moved rapidly in two main parties, one to the Portuguese border and the other, breaking northward, ending our columns and reaching Kilimanjaro on their way for Tabora. On May 6

POLICE NOTIFYING MEN TO REGISTER FOR ARMY DRAFT

House-to-house canvass begun today is expected to require three days.

WARNING TO CITIZENS

Chief Says People Should Be Vigilant While Force Is on War Service.

A house-to-house canvass of the city was begun by policemen today to notify all men between the ages of 21 and 30 inclusive, that they must register next Tuesday for the army draft. The canvass is expected to require three days.

The assignment of about nine-tenths of the city's policemen to this duty has greatly depleted the force, leaving only a few men available for police work. In the Mount Pleasant district, for instance, 45 men are canvassing and only six are on regular duty.

In the residence district between Lindell boulevard and Eastman avenue, two patrolmen are walking the beats usually covered by 12.

In view of this depletion, Chief Young said it would be necessary for citizens to be unusually vigilant in aiding in the enforcement of the law during the period in which the canvass is being made.

Travelers May Register Now. Beginning today, all persons who will be out of the city on Registration day may register at the City Registrar's office at the city hall. The registration blanks will be filled and will be given to the proper precinct registrars on Registration day.

City Registrar Witter kept his office open today and registered prospective absentees. The Board of Election Commissioners arranged to post three bills in each precinct calling attention to the necessity for registering and to the location of registration places.

Acting Mayor Alois has issued a call for 30 automobiles to be used by interpreters and members of war registration boards. Citizens are asked to donate the use of their machines for five hours on Registration day and to notify the Mayor before next Tuesday, noting the hours when the machines will be available. The automobiles will be parked at the city hall and used as needed.

The Foreign Trade Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce has furnished the names of 100 interpreters who will be available for service on Registration day.

Place of Registration. All of the 600 registration offices except 31 will be in the same buildings as were the polling places for the municipal election on April 3. The registration offices will be open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. next Tuesday.

The new places of registration are in the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Tenth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-third, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth wards. They are as follows:

Fifth Ward.
Ninth Precinct—122 Franklin avenue.

VILLA TAKES OJINAGA, PORT OF ENTRY TO UNITED STATES

Carranza Garrison Forces Across River to Presidio, Texas Fighting in Plaza.

PRESDIO, Tex., May 30.—Attacked Ojinaga, opposite here, early today, surprising the Mexican Government soldiers in the garrison there and causing them to flee to the American side, leaving their arms in Mexico.

All women and children at Ojinaga fled across the line into Texas.

Carranza's forces, who arrived from Ojinaga, led the attack in person. Many Mexican Government troops surrendered to the Villa troops, these officials said. Ojinaga now is in possession of the Villa soldiers. The fighting occurred in the plaza of the Mexican town.

The capture of Ojinaga gives Villa control of a border port of entry to the United States. Villa's main command is reported at Polvo, 20 miles east of Presidio.

NAVY VEXED BY LABOR PROBLEM

Overtime Demands Trouble Officials in Effort to Speed Up Work.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Union labor's demand for the payment of double time for every hour of work beyond the usual eight-hour day is furnishing a troublesome problem for the Navy Department in its efforts to speed up the naval construction.

When the union officials objected to lengthened days, with the time and a half for every hour of work beyond the usual eight-hour day, the department officials planned to keep work in progress at high speed by putting on two or even three shifts of men in the emergency branches. They were informed, however, that every additional shift would be paid double time.

the latter was pursued by British, Rhodian and other troops. Maj. Wintgens, in command of the latter German column, was captured on the 23d in the vicinity of Lukalanka, 61 miles south-west of Tabor.

"A Belgium column is co-operating with the British base on the central railway."

Raiding Activity Continues on British Front.

LONDON, May 30.—"Hostile raiding parties were repulsed last night in the neighborhood of Fontaine-les-Croisilles and west of Lens," says today's War Office report. "South of Ypres, Col. de la Motte's troops entered the enemy's trenches and inflicted casualties."

Two German airplanes were brought down Monday in the air fighting, six others were driven out of control and five British machines are missing, according to last night's report.

German Take Prisoners in Patrol Fight Near St. Quentin.

BERLIN, May 30.—Today's army headquarters statement reads: "Western front.—During the day the artillery activity was lively only in the Wytschaete sector. In the evening the firing increased at other places. British reconnoitering advances on the Artois front were repulsed as were similar activities by the French on the Chemin-des-Dames. Patrol engagements southwest of St. Quentin resulted in the capture of a number of prisoners by us."

Star Athlete to Drive Ambulance.

CHICAGO, May 30.—The Chicago Athletic Association has donated two ambulances to the army ambulance corps. One of them will be run by Joe E. Loomis, star athlete of the C. A. A. Mrs. A. Montgomery Ward has also donated two ambulances, it was announced today.

CITY-WIDE QUEST FOR REGISTRARS ON REGISTRATION DAY

Local Officers to Help Get Share of 100,000 Needed at Once for Regulars.

ENLISTMENTS FALL OFF PARADE FROM CAPITAL

Ranks of Standing Army to Be Filled by Draft, Unless Men Volunteer.

Local recruiting officers are planning a city-wide, intensive recruiting campaign on Registration day, June 5, for the purpose of obtaining a great number of men for the regular army, which requires 100,000 additional enlistments at once.

Army officers believe that the act of registering will imbue the young men with a spirit of patriotism and a desire for immediate service. The fact that the standing army units will be the first to see service in France is expected to be an inducement to join the regulars at once. Maj. George W. Goode, in charge of the army recruiting here, makes it plain that there is nothing to prevent a young man from volunteering for army service after he registers for the draft.

What Situation Reveals.

Recent War Department orders and authorized statements from Washington reveal these interesting and important facts concerning the present condition of the country's armed land forces:

The volunteer system has been a failure, fewer than 300,000 having enlisted in the regulars and national guard, although the country has been at war with Germany for three months.

Even the stimulating news that Major-General Pershing and a force of 25,000 men would be sent to France in a short time has failed to assist recruiting.

The present rate of army enlistments, 1200 to 1500 a day, must be increased to from 10,000 to 20,000 a day if the plans mapped out by the War Department are to be carried out. If voluntary recruiting continues to be a failure, the regular army units and those of the national guard will be filled by men in service under the first selective draft.

The national guard is still short 130,000 men of war strength, despite the fact that all of the units are to be taken into the Federal service between July 15 and Aug. 5.

The daily average of recruits has been diminishing for the last two weeks.

Call for Use of Autos.

Maj. Goode invites owners of automobiles and trucks to loan them to the recruiting office for use on registration day.

The recruiting officers are planning to cover as many registration places as possible and to use the motor vehicles to take the young men who wish to join the army to the enlistment station at once.

PRESIDENT OF DRURY COLLEGE

Dr. Thomas W. Nadal Has Been Dean of Olmsted (Mich.) College.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 30.—Dr. Thomas W. Nadal, dean of Olmsted College, Olivet, Mich., was elected president of Drury College at the annual meeting of the board of trustees here yesterday.

Dr. Nadal will take up his work at Drury on Aug. 1. It was announced that the college deficit for the current year of $700 had been met by subscriptions from alumni and friends of Drury in Kansas City, St. Louis and Springfield.

The trustees authorized the conferring of degrees upon 42 candidates at the commencement exercises today. At the annual meeting of the Drury Alumni Association yesterday Dean A. P. Hall was elected president and A. H. Mansfield of St. Louis alumni member of the board of trustees of the college.

U. S. EXPORTS SIX BILLIONS

Heavy Increase in Year Ending in April, 1917.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The country's export trade reached a total of $6,000,000,000 during the 12 months ending with April, establishing another new record.

For the year ending with April, 1916, the total was less than $4,000,000,000, and for the year before that only about $2,500,000,000.

Red Blood and Big Muscles

The full-blooded man or woman usually has large muscles. Pale people are ordinarily thin; their muscles are small.

Muscles are red not only because of the blood in them but because they contain hemoglobin, the same substance that gives the red color to the blood. And it is this hemoglobin that carries oxygen in the blood and stores it up in the muscles.

Well oxidized blood is necessary if we would have strong muscles. In fact oxygen is the great supporter of life. Oxygen is used up when we work. When a set of muscles are active, as those of the back when we lift something, their oxygen is used and unless the blood is rich and red with oxygen-bearing hemoglobin these muscles are weak.

If you are pale and your back aches don't blame your kidneys. Try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills cause an increase of hemoglobin in the blood and so enable it to carry more oxygen. That is why they give life and ambition. Everywhere that this tonic treatment is carried out, the blood is made rich and the muscles are strengthened. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price 50 cents.

PRESIDENT GOES TO ARLINGTON FOR DAY'S CEREMONIES

Cardinal Gibbons, Chief Justice White and Other High Officials Participate.

SPECIAL MASS AND PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION PART OF MEMORIAL PROGRAM IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, May 30.—War clouds cast a special gravity over the memorial day exercises here today in which President Wilson, Cardinal Gibbons, Chief Justice White and many other high Government officials participated.

Down Pennsylvania avenue and across the Potomac to Arlington National Cemetery marched veterans of past wars, at the head of a column of national guardsmen and regulars, who may see service in France within a year. Mingled with the American flags adorning buildings along the way were several Confederate banners, set for the veterans' reunion here next week.

President Wilson arranged to attend the exercises at Arlington this afternoon, but does not expect to make an address. The ceremonies at Arlington are the principal feature of the day.

Special postoffice military mass was held at St. Aloysius' Church by Cardinal Gibbons and was attended by Knights of Columbus councils from Baltimore, Chief Justice White and other members of the Supreme Court. This was followed by a patriotic celebration before Columbus monument in front of the Union Station, with former Gov. Glynn of New York the chief speaker.

Spanish war veterans held services about the Maine Memorial at Arlington. Both houses of Congress adjourned for the day and all Government departments were closed.

5000 Poles Participate in Detroit Parade and 100 Enlist.

DETROIT, Mich., May 30.—More than 5000 Polish residents of Detroit, bearing banners denoting allegiance to America's cause, marched with Civil War veterans and other organizations in the Decoration day parade. When the parade was over about 100 of the Polish marchers enlisted in the army and navy.

Judge Dyer Addresses 10,000 Persons at St. Louis.

LOUISIANA, Mo., May 30.—Federal Judge Dyer of St. Louis delivered a patriotic address today to nearly 10,000 persons gathered here from Missouri and Illinois. A large patriotic parade, headed by Union and Confederate veterans and several hundred Illinois National Guardsmen on bridge patrol duty near here, marched through the streets to an 80-foot flagpole recently erected by the Commercial Club in the business district. The American flag was raised on the pole for the first time, and French and Belgian national emblems were raised beneath it.

Confederate Veterans Join in Memorial Services at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 30.—Confederate veterans of Memphis today aided in decorating 3000 graves of Union soldiers and took a prominent part in the program at the National Cemetery.

Company A of Confederate Veterans marched through the cemetery, bearing their former foes and placed ferns, flags and wreaths on the graves.

Richmond Exercises at Cemetery Where Jefferson Davis is Buried.

RICHMOND, Va., May 30.—The Rev. Richard Ferguson, a member of Pickett's Brigade was the Confederate Memorial day orator here today. Formal exercises took place in Hollywood cemetery, where Jefferson Davis is buried.

Exercises also were held in the Seven Pines National cemetery, where G. A. R. veterans participated. The cemetery is on the edge of the famous Seven Pines battlefield.

C. L. McNARY NEW U. S. SENATOR

Republican Named in Oregon to Succeed Late Harry Lane.

SALEM, Ore., May 30.—Gov. James Whitcomb was announced here as appointing C. L. McNary of Salem, Ore., former justice of the State Supreme Court, to succeed the late Harry Lane, as United States Senator for Oregon. McNary is a Republican, succeeding a Democrat. He is 48 years old.

Lane was buried at Portland yesterday with military honors, Congressman acting as pallbearers.

RAILROADS FORBIDDEN TO INCREASE TRASSITE FARES IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, May 30.—The injunction against the railroads operating in Illinois was granted last night by Judge Foell in the Superior Court. The writ prohibits the roads from increasing the intrastate passenger rate from two cents a mile to two and four-fifths cents.

Representatives of the railroads wanted the hearing removed to the Federal Court, arguing that as the proposed rate was based on an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission the case should be heard on its merits only by a Federal court.

NAVY BALLOON GOES 500 MILES

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The first of the dirigible balloons being built for the navy, much after the pattern of the British "Blimps," made an entirely successful flight yesterday from Chicago to Akron, O.

Leaving Chicago at noon she landed without mishap at Akron about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, making an air distance of about 500 miles.

Rostand's Poem to the Stars and Stripes

The azure of God's own blue sky is gravely smiling through!

The man shrunk back as a thief shrinks back when a flash illumines his face.

Yet still his glance in terror sought that deep blue field of space.

Wherefrom the kindly stars looked down. Anon we caught a strain

Of music, far and faint at first, then grown to a great refrain.

And O, the song of the astral choir that on the still air thrilled

Was the Song of the Stars I mourned as lost and Hugo wept as stilled.

"Look, look, ye mounts!" the chorus rang. "Ye ancient, changeless hills,

Bear witness that God's starry host this banner's lost field fill!

Here where a sacrilegious hand a grisly wound hath rent, Behold the shining ranks of us who guard the firmament.

Rejoice, ye sons of Liberty, for we who keep the night Will keep secure the flag ye love, the gulfon of the right!"

A softer note into the song crept as a new theme came: "Ah, we are Light upon the way, Rochambeau, yet the same

Fair stars of hope that once were wont to glow

What time your frigate's battered bulk was harassed by the foe."

They sang: "Were Lincoln in his grave content if he but knew

That slavery's vast, horrid bulk once more stalks into view?

Would not Walt Whitman blush with shame if someone Should tell him that in all the sky there is one neutral star?

Or that ingratulate's vile stain could dim one bright star's glow?

Come, let us nail unto this flag our field of azure, so It stand there as an emblem that unto man's dress below

We add the blessed silver of divine and lasting love."

A Field then took up the song: "Ah, we who live above, Where naught of fear and haught of shame amongst us have been known—

Cardinal Mercier Rejects German Catholic Overtures

Renewal of Relations Opposed Until Wrongs Have Been Righted and Peace Accepted.

LONDON, May 30.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Rotterdam says a new movement by the leading Rhineland Catholics ostensibly designed to renew relations between the German and Belgian Catholics, has brought forth the following declaration from Cardinal Mercier Primate of Belgium:

"Catholics over the frontier who have not found a single word of disapproval for those who suggested approval for those who showed approval—these Catholics who for three years have looked on with folded arms at the martyrdom of a people—now are singing hymns of brotherliness, peace and forgiveness. But it is our duty to press for the restitution of violated rights, punishment for the guilty, and for means to make a repetition impossible. If we did otherwise we would be sharing in the guilt for the misdeeds of our enemies. The hour for the exercise of mercy can only strike when wrong has been righted and when contrition is shown and penance is accepted."

FORMER AMBASSADOR ELKUS SAID TO HAVE LEFT TURKEY

U. S. Official Who Was Detained by Illness Reported to Have Gone to Switzerland.

AMSTERDAM, May 30.—A dispatch sent yesterday from Constantinople to the Frankfurter Zeitung says that Abraham L. Elkus, American Ambassador to Turkey until diplomatic relations were severed, who has since been detained in the Turkish capital by illness, was said to have left for Switzerland by way of Vienna.

"Accommodations were provided in a special car on the Balkan express for the former Ambassador, Mrs. Elkus and 30 others from the American embassy. Elkus expects to remain some time in Switzerland before returning to America."

SENATE COMMITTEE WILL FAVOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

Recommendation Will Be That Turning Clocks Ahead an Hour From April to September Be Deferred a Year.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—"Daylight saving" legislation, requiring all timepieces to be set forward one hour from the last Sunday in April until that in September is expected to come before the Senate soon with the favorable recommendation of the Commerce Committee, although it is suggested the change be deferred a year.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas has filed a report for the committee upon the bill approving it as "fairly calculated to accomplish valuable economies in our national life."

"The comfort and convenience of many millions of our people will be promoted by its passage," the report states. "It is regarded of special value in the present national emergency. The legislation is endorsed by many boards of trade, chambers of commerce and other commercial and civic organizations. Thousands of letters have been received in advocacy of the legislation."

"It is believed by the committee that the possible benefits of the legislation are more than sufficient to offset objections presented."

ALLIES RECLAIMING SECTION DEVASTATED BY THE GERMANS

Crops Being Planted in Eastern France, Horses and Harness Being Loaned for Agriculture.

PARIS, May 30.—After two months of intensive work by the military and civil authorities in the district devastated by the recent German retreat a distinct improvement is beginning to be observable, says a semi-official statement. The repair of the roads and the utilization of everything not destroyed has contributed materially to changing the aspect of the ravaged country. Even the morale of the people of the district has undergone an improvement. Civil life is gradually being resumed, trade is showing signs of revival and there is a general reawakening of the agricultural and economic activities of the region.

The bringing in of seed for the farmers has permitted the planting of considerable tracts of land and the army has given assistance by lending the workers horses and harness for agricultural uses. In some parts of the devastated region the first signs of the new crops already have begun to show themselves in the soil.

Plans for making use of the services of persons who are unable to get into the army, and yet want to do something to help their country, will be discussed at a conference between the members of the "War Board" of the Chamber of Commerce and the Missouri Council of National Defense tomorrow.

The "war board" yesterday authorized the invitation of F. B. Mumford, chairman of the Defense Council, and W. F.

Saunders, secretary, to this meeting. The board telegraphed to R. Godwyn Rhett, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, its approval of a plan to establish a department to educate the people on the war in all the various ways in which it may affect the people.

'LIBERTY' BELL CALLS BUYERS

A replica of the liberty bell is being used by the American Trust Co. to increase the interest in Liberty Bonds. The bell is three feet high, instead of five, the height of the original, but in other respects is exactly like liberty bell. It was made here from specifications found in the City Library. At the close of the advertising campaign it will be given to some school or library. Many are attracted by the ringing of the bell outside the trust company's place of business and quickened inquiries about Liberty Bonds are attributed to it.

THE materials include fine quality voiles and batiste. The voiles are embroidered in colors and the batiste in white. They are shown in a variety of floral and scroll patterns as well as conventional designs and raised embossed effects, in close imitation handwork.

Most of them are finished with heavily worked scallops, and the embroidering is deep enough that materials can be used for waists, skirts or entire dresses. (Downstairs Store.)

IRRIGATION PROJECT
of Comanche County to be included in First Work.
WATON, Ok., May 30.—With final approval for the establishment of a reclamation project completed,
the Comanche County are planning to irrigate their land after 15 years awaiting success in crop production. The farmers finally decided it not profitable to depend solely

"Athol Forbes," Author, Is Dead.
LONDON, May 30.—The Rev. Forbes
Alexander Phillips, a novelist and dramatist, who wrote under the pseudonym of "Athol Forbes," died yesterday at the Great Yarmouth. He was born in 1866 and had been the vicar at Gorleston since 1893.

BRANCH RESERVE BANKS LIKELY
Federal Board Awaiting Amendments to Present Act.
WASHINGTON, May 30.—Establishment of a number of branch Federal Reserve banks throughout the country is contemplated by the Federal Reserve Board upon the passage of amendments to the reserve act, pending before Congress. The first three of the banks, it is expected, will be at Baltimore, Louisville and Denver.

At present there is only one branch reserve bank, which is in operation at New Orleans, although branches of the San Francisco bank are contemplated at Spokane, Wash., and Portland, Ore.
As the law stands now, the cost of establishing a branch is considerable and has acted somewhat as a deterrent.
This would be obviated largely by the prospects of the amendments.

OUTDOOR REHEARSAL
OF "AIDA" TOMORROW
Orchestra and Chorus to Be in Theater in Forest Park at 9:30 A. M.

The first outdoor rehearsal of orchestra and chorus for next week's "Aida" performances at the new Municipal Theater in Forest Park, will be held tomorrow morning, beginning at 9:30. Rehearsals of the orchestra, soloists, chorus and ballet will be held Friday and Saturday afternoons at 3 o'clock and Sunday and Monday mornings at 10:30.
Employers of members of the chorus were requested to grant them the necessary time off for the rehearsals, and all employers have complied with this request.

Manuel Salazar, Costa Rican tenor, a favorite with St. Louis audiences, arrived last night. He and other soloists, including Francisco Peraltia, Margaret Jarman, Cyrena Van Gordon, Virgil Lazzari and Carl Cochems, attended the general chorus rehearsal at 3:30 Washington boulevard last night.

The concrete stage and the amphitheater of steel and concrete, said to be the finest theater of its kind in America, is practically completed. The seat sale for the four "Aida" performances, beginning next Tuesday night, and for the popular concert Saturday night, June 2, is in progress at 710 Olive street.

WOMEN WANTED TO MARCH ON FOOT IN REGISTRATION PARADE
Knights of Pythias Promises 500 Men and Band; Organizations in Procession.

A large representation of women on foot is desired for the Registration day parade next Tuesday. The St. Louis Chapter of the American Red Cross is expected to contribute several hundred women, and other organizations which are to be represented, are the Women's Advertising
Club, the St. Louis Equal Suffrage League and the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation. John
B. Denver Jr. is chairman of the Parade Committee.

The International Life Insurance
Co. has pledged the participation of its St. Louis employees in the parade.
The Junior Citizens' League and the St. Louis Coal Club are among other organizations which have lately
promised to march.

Heads of the iron and steel industries have promised 1000 men and a band. Col. B. J. Riley of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, has promised 500 men and a band.

The members of the Building Trades Council have voted to enter the parade as individuals in the National Security League section.

Young men will be urged to register early in the day, so they may join the parade in the afternoon.
They will have the place of honor.

POLICE CLERK ACCUSED BY
CHIEF OF NEGLIGENCE OF DUTY
Joseph Lesyna, Who Previously Had Been Ordered to Resign, Contributed to Salary Increase Fund.

Patrolman Joseph Lesyna, for several years on the clerical staff at police headquarters, yesterday was ordered to walk a beat in the Carr Street District.
and today Chief Young reported charges of neglect of duty against him.

Lesyna was one of the first men to contribute $5 to the police salary increase bill fund, which is under investigation by the grand jury. It is known at police headquarters that Chief Young criticized Lesyna for failure to report to him that the fund was being raised.

The charges against him do not mention the contribution, but concern only a charge that he used official information personally to arrest a fugitive from justice for whom a reward of $250 was offered instead of handling the matter through the regular police channels. He will be tried before the Police Board Friday.

SUES FOR DOWER INTEREST IN
ESTATE OF HUSBAND'S FATHER
Mrs. Anna Elvins' Action Directed Against Polite and Charles Elvins

Suit for a dower interest in the estate of Jesse M. Elvins, wealthy land owner of St. Francis and Ste. Genevieve counties, who died in 1910, was filed in the Federal court here today by Mrs. Anna Elvins of Omaha, widow of William Elvins, who was a son of Jesse Elvins.

The suit is directed against Polite and Charles Elvins, brothers of her husband, and Mrs. Lizzie Elvins, his mother, all residents of St. Francis County.
It is alleged that William Elvins, after the death of his father, deeded his one-fifth share in the estate to Polite El-vins. Mrs. Anna Elvins alleges that she did not join in the deeds, and that they were therefore illegal. It is also alleged that Lizzie Elvins, a minor heir, also deeded his share of the estate to Polite Elvins.

Polite Elvins is a lawyer, and was chairman of the Republican State Committee in 1912. He lived at Elvins, Mo.,
a mining town of St. Francis County.

MARINES STILL LEAD RECRUITING
446 Applicants Accepted Here in 29
Days; Many Quota Was Only 150.

The Marine Corps continues to be the most popular branch of the service in St. Louis. While a quota of 150 was fixed for the month of May here, 446
applicants were accepted in the first 29 days. Twelve were recruited yesterday and 10 men obtained for the proposed Marine Corps regimental band.

Twenty sailors arrived yesterday from the training station at Great Lakes, Ill.,
for recruiting duty here, replacing men who have been assigned to battleships.
The army accepted 12 men yesterday.

20,000 HARVEST HANDS NEEDED
Federal Bureau Issues Call for Men
for Kansas and Oklahoma.
CHICAGO, May 30.—A call for 20,000 men to aid in harvesting the grain crops of Oklahoma and Kansas has been issued by Dr. P. L. Prentiss, in charge of the local United States Immigration Service and Employment Bureau.

Of the number, 8000 are needed in Oklahoma, where the harvest season in the north central part of the State will begin about June 8. Wages will be not less than $2 a day, with board and lodging. The remaining 15,000 men are needed in Kansas for harvesting the wheat crop.
The harvest of which is expected to begin about June 15 or 20. The wages will range from $2 to $3 a day, with board and lodging.

OLD AGE A CRIME!
Some people are young at 60—redcheeked, ruddy and vigorous. Others are old at 40—jaundiced, beginning to stiffen up a bit; eyes beginning to lag and lose its springiness; occasional touches of pain in the back, feet tired without cause and possibly a twinge of rheumatic pain.

In most cases these are the danger signals to warn you that the kidneys are not promptly doing their work of throwing off the poisons that are always forming in the body. To neglect these natural warnings is a crime against yourself. If you have these symptoms you can find prompt relief in GOLD MEDAL
Hearst Oil Capsules. For more than 20 years this has been the recognized remedy for kidney and bladder ailments.

GOLD MEDAL Hearst Oil Capsules
are imported direct from the laboratories at Hearst, Holland. Get them at your

Western Golf Body Openly Seeking War With National, Sterling Edmunds Declares

Former Director of Missouri State Golf Association, Who Recently Resigned When His Associates Sided With the Western G. A. Declares He Will Not Withdraw Resignation.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Golfers are a cold, heartless lot! Old Man Stymlie died, yesterday afternoon, at Algonquin, where the State championship tournament is being conducted, and no one sang his requiem. Indeed very few knew he was dead.

Since his nativity Old Man Stymlie has been a dominant factor in golf. A rival of Col. Bogey. He was born in 1850, and has been a member of the Missouri State Golf Association since 1879. ## POST-DISPATCH TROPHY WINNERS FINALLY LOSE Cote Brilliant Nine, 1916 Champions of School League, Beaten by Ashland.

The Cote Brilliant Nine School team, last season's winner of the Public School Baseball League championship, and the Post-Dispatch trophy, were put out of the running for the honors this year when beaten yesterday, 4-2, by Ashland in the play-off game for the title in Group G. The game was one of the best played in the league this season.

The contest to decide the champion of Group G, Columbia shut out the Grant team, 7 to 0. Gracey of the winners gave the Cotes a hard time, but they were not able to get a hit. The Cotes were beaten by Ashland in the play-off game for the title in Group G. The game was one of the best played in the league this season.

Wray's Column

Kitty, Bar the Door! FREDDIE WELSH need not raise all this coil about losing one championship. Freddie lost the 133-pound boxing laurels, Monday, it is true; but he still has an undisputed claim on the lightweight clinching and the world's safety first championships.

Freddie will long be remembered for his ability to hang on to his honors with less risk and more money than any fighter in the history of the game, the sole and surpassing exception being Jess Willard. But now that Welsh has been jarred loose from his grip on the lightweight boxing days, the Dear Old Public ought to be able to get a better boxing show than the one he is now giving.

Freddie was once a good fighter—and that was perfectly correct. But he has been jarred loose from his grip on the lightweight boxing days, the Dear Old Public ought to be able to get a better boxing show than the one he is now giving.

HOME RUN BY FELSCH BEAT BROWNS IN FIRST

Smash Comes With Two Men on Bases and Jones' Men Lose, 4 to 2.

BROWNS A. M. GAME OFF. CHICAGO, May 30.—The game scheduled to be played this morning between the Browns and White Sox was called off on account of rain. The teams will stage one game this afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

CHICAGO, May 30.—A homer by Hap Felisch in the first inning of yesterday's game with two mates on the sacks gave the White Sox a 4-2 victory over the Browns in the initial contest of the season. The teams will stage one game this afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

SPORT SALAD

The Revue.

THE Browns had a tussle with Lethander Russell. And got the hot end of the stick: Right in the beginning. The Sox started winning. And neatly accomplished the trick.

One Felach they call "Happy." A husky young chap, Enveloped the Browns in gloom: He made a four-bagger. That caused 'em to stagger. And put a large crimp in R. Groom.

Our boys are still ailing. And hard luck is trailing. Along in the wake of the Browns: They're sad and down-hearted. And cannot get started. While fortune dispenses her frown.

The Cards made a killing. And Hug is fulfilling. Predictions he made in the spring: The "Mule" was in fettle. And showed them his mettle. By taking the frolic from Ring.

Fred Welsh got a licking. And still he is kicking. Because he was not counted out: But Freddie was groggy—So limp and so soggy. He couldn't continue the bout.

Whoa, There! Little boy Red. Don't fool your horn. The "Mule" is in the meadow. He'll tread on your corn.

Benny Kauff is improving every day. If Benny keeps on at the present rate in another year he ought to be pretty near as good a ballplayer as he thought he was last spring.

Exaggerated ego is a tough old nudy. But can be cured if taken in time. Buck Herzog discovered Frank Baker. Buck also discovered that Ty Cobb was a better man than he was, Gunga Din.

The English soldiers in France call the home town "blighty." Here's hoping the Browns do better on the road than they did in their blighty.

We take it that this is the open season for Welsh Rabbits in New York. Johnny Kilbane started the Welsh derby to tottering. Benny Leonard topped it over.

Tis Tough! Poor Freddie! The only thing left for him to do now is to retire to his estate and lead the life of a gentleman farmer and clip coupons on rainy days.

The result of the Kilbane bout was the tip for Freddie to retire as the undefeated champion. But he booted the hunch just as they all do when they crown.

See where King George is making a war. Warming up so he can ho his own in a case any of us happens to be crown.

Unless Well Heeled. ANYONE who is a sole provider will be exempt from prescription. Guess that lets the shoemakers out.

Thirteen members of McGraw's team registered for military duty. When they hear the bugle they'll think we're sending over an army of Giants.

Connie Mack thinks he has found "another Collins." Now all he needs is another Baker, a second Barry and a fair number of copies of Frank Bender and Coombs.

Ten Robins have registered for military service. Will probably line up with the flying squad.

Colombia Release Comstock. LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 30.—O. H. Wathen, president of the Louisville American Legion, has been released to the Birmingham club of the Southern Association.

Fisher announced this morning that the next two fights will be outdoors, rain or shine. A tarpaulin has been placed over the mat, and it will be dry and firm when the wrestling starts hostilities.

The match today will be the third between the two men. In the first one, resulted in a draw after 3 hours and 17 minutes. In the second, Fisher won the first fall, but O'Brien took the next two, injuring Fisher in taking the first. O'Brien was a victor over Johnny Blatter, whom Fisher recently beat.

Fisher won the title in his first local bout, when he pinned Al Wasson's shoulders to the mat for two straight falls.

A preliminary between Billy Collins and Bob May is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. O'Brien took the first fall in the match with Flat River in the semifinal. George Bagby will referee.

Two Tiger Captains Named. COLUMBIA, Mo., May 30.—William X. Fisher of Kansas City yesterday was elected captain of the track team of the University of Missouri. Walter Newell of Kansas City was elected team captain. Both men were of the team that won the Missouri Valley Conference championships this year.

Five marks were broken, while three were tied. Laffer and Deeds, both McKinley boys, led in this assault upon the records. Deeds broke two records. Deeds won the discus hurl with a throw of 123 ft. 4 in., beating the old mark by 12 ft. 5 in. He also won the shot put, putting the weight 2 ft. 8 in. further than anyone had done previously.

Laffer was the real star of the meet with four firsts to his credit. He also was a member of the runner-up relay team. Laffer broke both the hurdle records, by three-fifths of a second in each case. In the high hurdles he had the satisfaction of being the record holder, who "also ran" in this event. His time was 16.5 sec. In the low hurdles he again lowered the record. He tied the record in the high jump, clearing the bar at 48 inches. The other first was won in the broad jump.

Before the meet the Central High Cadets entertained with a drill. This was followed by a demonstration by the Freshman girls. The attendance was 400.

WATSON HAS WON FIVE GAMES, ALL FROM CINCINNATI

The Justly Celebrated "Mule"

Kicked the Reds' Hopes to Pieces Again Yesterday.

DOUBLEHEADER TODAY. Ames and Doak May Be Called Upon to Trim Matty's Uncertain Athletics.

CINCINNATI, O., May 30.—If the next veterinary surgeon who prescribes for "Mule" Watson can be bribed, the Reds are likely to slip him chunks of gold just to frame up the Cardinal pitcher.

On the face of the records this season the Mule simply cannot beat any club on earth excepting the Reds; but he can always beat the Reds. Figures direct from Mule's stall show:

Games won from all clubs, five. Games lost to all clubs, five. Won from the Reds, five. Won from all other clubs, none!

If you were a self-respecting Cincinnati bug, would not that record make you malcontent? It was a wild, hurly-burly game, this affair of yesterday. Les Meadows batted benignly through his six-limbs for a little while, and then he sent him forth, weeping woe-fully. In the second frame O'Brien and Thorpe belted the bull in swift succession. Mule still showed.

Jack Smith contributed a fumble. With one in, none down, and the bases full, Meadows left a lovely legacy to the Mule. Shanon smote Cruson's heavy, ferociously, wherefore Wingo and Thorpe, who were looking like utter overhauled, but of course all had to go to the showers.

"They always do." Some day somebody up in the grandstand will show a Cincinnati runner foul ball, and he will climb up there to be put out. Right at this point, with the Cardinals on the run, Mule simply had to wander off base and ha run down, whereupon the batting rally ended abruptly, and the Reds' victory died simultaneously.

When Neale tripled in the fourth and scored on an amazing hit by Ring. More Safety First Baseball.

In the second session the Reds held the ball whenever it was hit to them. This, of course, prevented any wild throws, but it also gave his away with lavish generosity. Hornsby, Long and Gonzalez got hits, or alleged hits, during the inning. Cruson landed when his punt was solemnly held a while and thrown to the left. Hornsby and Long, who had been sitting on the bench, drove by Cruson and Long and some infield outs satisfied with the play. After Jack Smith tripled in the fifth, Kuster came in and Smith scored on Hornsby's fly to Thorpe.

Two sacrifices took Watson round in the seventh. With Elmer pitching, Cruson tripled in the eighth and scored on Gonzalez's fly to Roush.

Pitchers for the Decoration day double-header are still uncertain. Tony and Schneider for the Reds. If Tony fails, Schneider will be called upon for Huggins' sake.

RAIN WILL NOT STOP OPEN AIR MAT MATCH. Jack Fisher, world's lightweight wrestling champion, and Charles (Red) O'Brien of Woodstock, Ill., are scheduled to meet in a match in an open-air mat at Federal League Park this afternoon. The weight agreement is 135 pounds, and a forfeit of $100 has been put up by each man.

Fisher announced this morning that the next two fights will be outdoors, rain or shine. A tarpaulin has been placed over the mat, and it will be dry and firm when the wrestling starts hostilities.

WEDDING ON LAWN AT ARCADIA, MO

Many From City to Attend Marriage of Miss Blanche Turner and Kelton E. White, June 9.

MISS BLANCHE TURNER'S wedding to Kelton E. White, which will be celebrated on the afternoon of June 9, at "Hillside," the Turner country place in Arcadia, Mo., will be one of the prettiest affairs of the summer.

The ceremony will take place on the lawn and a summer house will be converted into a background of vines and flowers for the temporary altar. The decorations will be entirely in daisies, which grow in abundance in June.

The bride's four nieces will be her attendants. Miss Blanche Turner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Volentine C. Turner, who was a debutante last winter, will be maid of honor and the two younger daughters, Misses Mary Soudard Turner and Beatrice Turner, and Miss Marie Clarkson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Palmer Clarkson, will be bridesmaids.

They are to wear white frocks with touches of green, green slippers and hose, and carry daisies.

A number of relatives and friends will occupy a Pullman attached to the Sunshine Special, which leaves St. Louis at 9 o'clock in the morning. The car will be parked and the guests will make their headquarters aboard and return to St. Louis in the afternoon.

Other guests are planning to motor down. The distance is 38 miles, and it takes about four hours by train and five or six by motor.

Miss Turner is the daughter of Mrs. John W. Turner. Her father was the late Gen. Turner.

Two of her brothers, Capt. Soudard Turner, who has just passed his examinations for his majority, and Capt. George E. Turner, will be unable to be present at the wedding, as Capt. Turner is en route for San Antonio and Maj. Turner who has entirely recovered his health at Fort Bayard, has been ordered to El Paso.

Mrs. Charles F. Gauss of 17 Washington terrace and her daughter, Mrs. Adele Gauss Bullen, gave a luncheon today at Bellevue Club in honor of Mrs. Thomas E. Burrows of Little Rock, Ark., who is visiting Mrs. Frank Low, and for whom a great number of entertainments have been given. The guests were Mrs. E. F. Bush, John W. Harrison, Oliver L. Garrison, George F. Jones, Cyrus E. Clark, William Duncan, Joseph Jacobs, S. H. Young and Mrs. Low.

Mrs. Orville L. Brown of 5842 Clemens avenue departed last evening for Ruston, Ala., to be present at the wedding of her son, Alanson D. Brown, and Miss Alice Ragan of that place, which will take place Friday evening. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. H. W. Ragan, and the marriage will be solemnized at the family residence.

Mr. Brown has resided in Ruston for several years, and is connected with the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. He will bring his bride to St. Louis to meet his relatives and to visit his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Leavell have returned from their wedding journey and are established in their apartment at 4915 Argyle place. Mrs. Leavell was formerly Miss Lorna Doone Carr, and her wedding at the home of her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William P. McLaughlin, in Fort Worth, Tex., May 13, was one of the interesting out-of-town nuptial events.

Mrs. Frederick R. Hatterley of 404 Buckingham court and her son, Robert, have returned from French Lick Springs, where they spent two weeks.

On Monday afternoon there will be a ball game for the benefit of the Teachers' Benevolent Annuity Association at National League Park, between the Cardinals and the New York Giants. Before the game a chorus of high school students will sing national songs, accompanied by Noel Poppeing's band.

A rhythmic dance in costume done by the girls of McKinley High School, a demonstration of gymnastic exercises by the boys of Tatum High School and a military drill by the cadets of the five high schools will be a part of the entertainment.

The association is raising money for teachers who no longer are in active service and who have no means of support.

Tomorrow there will be a bridge and "500" party at Riverview Club. It will be preceded by a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock and will be the last Thursday card day until September. The weekly dance will take place Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Tower Jr. of 27 Vandeventer place spent a week at their country place, "The Tower," near Clarksville, Mo., and returned Monday.

Mrs. J. G. Hollenbeck of 408 Washington boulevard has returned from Little Rock, Ark., where she spent two weeks.

The engagement of Miss Jeannette Crowds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Crowds of 5047 Washington boulevard, to Davis Hamilton Thomas was announced yesterday at a tea given by Mrs. Crowds.

Misses Frances Gospel, Lurline Bookner, Edna Flittercraft, Marion and Martha Gerhart, and Miss Betty Clover Funsten, who is visiting Mrs. R. E. Funsten, served.

Mr. Thomas has several Tennessee and has resided here several years.

Miss Crowds is a graduate of Mary Institute and has been an active member of the U. D. C., and has been chosen several times to serve as maid of honor at reunions.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

(Will the writer of the letter headed "A Negro's Appeal," and signed W. Irving Burch, please communicate with the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.)

Poverty and Prosperity.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
When the Franco-Prussian War closed in 1870 the German nation collected from France an indemnity of $1,000,000,000. Germany planned to crush France with the huge burden, but the reverse was exactly the case. The people of France rallied to the assistance of the Government and became the greatest buyers of Government bonds of any nation on earth. Their remarkable patriotism in purchasing the bonds of their Government enhanced the value of the French Government bonds 25 per cent, and made the credit of the French nation excellent in every country of the world. The French people transformed prospective national poverty in 1870 into national prosperity. The United States is conceded to be the richest nation on earth and also the greatest squanderer. We are planning to raise through the issue of the "Liberty Bonds" double the amount that Germany imposed on the French people in 1870. Our task will likely not be one-fifth as difficult as the task the French people faced in 1870, and we may pay by participation in the issue, even in the smallest amount, to our Government's purchasing power to stand at the highest efficiency, while teaching ourselves the habit of thrift and accumulating funds for individual use at the close of the war which may be of inestimable value. By buying "Liberty Bonds" now we can make the rich United States a virtual Utopia of wealth.

THIRTY.

Hissing at an Ally.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
A new kind of copperheadism has raised its head among us, and as it is more insidious than the old kind, it is more dangerous. The new kind is manifested by abuse of our ally, England, and by painting the evils of war in the most lurid colors, together with other covert stabs at the Government. The men who were open pro-Germans as long as they dared have changed their tactics, and now these men loudly proclaim that they are loyal Americans, but that they hate England, and that we ought not to "pull the chestnuts out of the fire for England." These gentlemen are blind to the fact that our chestnuts are in the same fire, and that if we refuse to pull England's chestnuts out of the fire our own will burn also. These men want to see Germany win the war, and they are opposed to anything that injures Germany.

"AMERICAN."

Heroism.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The definition of a hero is "He who does what he can." Let us be heroes in buying Liberty bonds—a bond to ourselves that we will have liberty.

L. B. H.

Pay Workers on Registration Day.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Conscription day to a great many men will mean the forfeiture of salary for that day. Could the bosses get together and as a mark of good will, also as a patriotic gift to their employees, allow them their pay for that day?
My husband is among those who will lose, and I say it with pride, very willing to be out of the day's pay for the privilege of enlisting for his country. And how grateful he and I am sure all the others would be, were they given a slight acknowledgment of their loyalty. They might then put what they receive for the day toward a Liberty bond. I hope the bosses will read this and consider it. A WIFE WHO WANTS A LIBERTY BOND IN HER HOME.

Waste in Garbage.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Whatever we may call Germany that the Post-Dispatch would not print, we can say that trite, true thing—that she is inefficient. We have no doubt but that Germany made an exhaustive study of the disposal of garbage before she installed incinerators everywhere.
Mr. Udell of the Board of Aldermen has expressed himself as bitterly opposed to an incinerator plant in these times of conservation. But, my dear Mr. Father, learn from the CITY Mother, unofficial though she may be. Conserve before the garbage reaches the garbage bucket. Mr. Udell said that the Indiana Reduction Co. made a handsome profit last year from oils alone. Let's make energy and heat for our bodies out of that good grease instead of letting anybody make glycerin and soap. Then let's build a nice little garbage incinerator with "flower boxes" and a fountain out in front, and inside we'll burn up our meager garbage by the only process guaranteed harmless. Then with what won't burn, we'll pave our streets, and perhaps the paving will last. German streets do.

A CITY MOTHER.

LAND AND FOOD SUPPLY.

The big food speculation, the big food monopoly is in the land.

Lord Northcliffe, in his article in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch, made the significant statement that next year Great Britain would be able to handle her own food problem because 3,000,000 additional acres of land were under cultivation.

A short time before the war Great Britain awoke to the importance of the land question. The increase of unemployment and poverty and the drift to cities by farm hands, resulting in severe hardships, forced the question of freeing for cultivation and other uses the lands monopolized by great land owners. Taxes were laid on land values and surtaxes were laid on unused lands to force their use or sale.

The food crisis caused by the war has made the land issue more acute and has forced the cultivation of vast tracts of game preserves, park and meadow reservations.

The food crisis has brought the world to a keen realization of the value of land and the evil of land monopolization. It has made the question of land cultivation acute everywhere. Even here in America, with vast undeveloped acreage, we have learned that victory depends upon the products of the soil and we are forced to reverse the order of progress from the farm to the city and induce migration from the city to the farm.

If Great Britain can break in 3,000,000 new acres to meet her food necessities, how many acres can America bring into cultivation?

In the United States there are 254,945,589 acres of unappropriated and unreserved public lands. We may set aside most of the land as unavailable on account of surface, location and lack of roads or other transportation facilities. Some of it may be available.

On the other hand, according to the 1910 census, there were 400,346,575 acres of unimproved farm lands. These lands are either parts of farms that are unimproved or are fertile farm lands held in an unimproved state for speculative purposes. The greater part now are undoubtedly speculative holdings.

Add to these unimproved farm lands held for speculation the vast acreage of valuable lands in cities and their suburbs, unused and unimproved, which are held for speculation and we have a domain for cultivation which, with capable labor, would supply ample food for the world's need.

The Government, under the pressing demands of war, is seeking new sources of revenue and at the same time is planning control of food supplies and prices to avoid war prices and starvation. Taxes are proposed on business, industry, incomes. Surtaxes are proposed on incomes and business profits.

Why not tax the unearned increment of land-lords, who neither toil nor spin, but draw their riches from the labor of others? Why not levy surtaxes on unused land, which would make it impossible to hold them out of use for speculation.

Taxes on land values and surtaxes on unused land would supply all the revenue the Government needs without injury to or check on business and improvements, and without burdening labor or increasing the hardships of the earners of moderate salaries. It would do more—it would lift the burdens from industry, commerce and improvements and thus reduce the cost of living. It would reduce the cost of food by opening a vast acreage of unused lands and encouraging production.

Congress may not levy direct taxes on land, but it can tax land through state apportionments. We are overlooking the greatest source of unburdened production and high living cost. The war and the food problem should awaken us to the truth about land.

WHAT MEXICO COULD DO.

Gen. Obregon said at the banquet given to him upon his retirement from the Secretaryship of War and Navy in Carranza's Cabinet recently that there was good reason why Mexico should not enter the Great War. He pointed out Mexico's poverty of military resources, and said the country could give its allies, should it join in the conflict, nothing but "our regards."

Mexico could do a great deal more than that, should it abandon its neutrality and avow sympathy with the aims of the United States. It could seize the interned German ships and put them into trade to take the place of cargo carriers sunk by the German submarines. In the harbor of Santa Rosalia alone there are 13 German ships, and ashore are many cargoes of much-needed copper waiting for ships. She could put her people to work growing foodstuffs on an agreed, systematized plan. She could aid us greatly in keeping the Mexican coast clear of supply stations for German submarines by permitting our navy to use her ports as bases from which to hunt them out. Her active avowed alliance with the United States would be of great value also in releasing virtually all of the regular army remaining on the border for the pressing business of training our new levies.

But she could help us most of all, first, by internalizing the members of the very active and intelligent clique in Mexico City which manufactures and spreads German sentiment, and secondly, in making sure that no wireless apparatus of sufficient power to communicate with Germany is on Mexican soil. This is an immediate necessity, which did not need the alarming leak concerning the sailing of our destroyer flotilla to emphasize it. If German spies can learn our naval and military secrets, it will be almost impossible to prevent them telegraphing them in innocent appearing code to the Mexican border, and so into Mexico. If they can communicate with Berlin from there, our great task will be more difficult still.

EAST ST. LOUIS' RACE RIOTS.

Our information as to the new negro migration from the South to the North has heretofore been voluminous, but virtually all from one end. The departure of the negroes from Southern communities has been resisted, labor agents have been threatened with violence and laws of doubtful validity passed or recommended to hamper withdrawals, which have left some sections short of help.

In the East St. Louis riots we get a view of the migration from its other end. A meeting of union leaders at the city hall to protest against the negro arrivals, estimated at 6000 or 8000 in East St. Louis in the last few weeks, was assured of the active co-operation of the municipal officials in discouraging the movement, but on dispersing the participants learned of a hold-up by a colored highwayman a few moments before. Attacks on all negroes found on the streets and on negro property were at once begun, continuing on the following night.

If the coming of these colored laborers is to be resented as bitterly in Northern communities as their leaving is resented in Southern communities, how is the migration movement to be dealt with? In the interruption of European immigration these negroes have been drawn from their former homes by a demand for workers in industries, many of which are important to war-making. How is the movement so to be regulated as to take only the South's excess of negroes, without interfering with cotton and food production? Doubtless the problem of a proper distribution of civilian labor will assume even more serious phases before the war is over.

Should the influx of negroes accentuate race prejudice and create at the North some of the evils heretofore distinctive to the South, a duty is imposed on the North to combat them much more effectively than the South has combated them. A rioter declared Monday night that "there is no law against violence" in certain cases. Perpetrators of race outrages should be made to know that there is such law and that it will be drastically applied.

H. C. L. IN CITY INSTITUTIONS.

Of 92 articles listed by the Comptroller as requisite to the maintenance of the city institutions, not one is obtainable this year at the price paid last year. Flour is up 100 per cent, potatoes 204 per cent, sauerkraut 640 per cent. We know why onions have advanced 153 per cent at wholesale and a much larger percentage at retail. A criminal combine purchased at a low price the greater part of the onion crop of the country and by forcing an artificial shortage sent the price to outrageous heights. Why, however, have matches advanced 300 per cent? The housewife finds that even clothespins have gone up through some mysterious influence exerted by the conditions.

Relief from the high-cost-of-onion exaction is expected as a result of the indictment of 88 individuals and firms who thought that the war did not raise onion prices fast enough and tried to accelerate the advance by criminal practices. Why not extend the scope of the relief by indicting the leaders in some other lines of trade? There is no cause but greed for the major part of price increases.

STORM-PROOF BUILDINGS.

In a region where tornadoes and violent windstorms are prevalent, it would be reasonable to expect builders to plan to construct buildings especially calculated to resist wind pressure. The work of rebuilding the wrecked stores, residences, etc., in the recently devastated districts has begun. And it is more than probable that not one builder in a hundred will put up a new building with any regard for the safety factor in construction, as against future windstorms.

This is, in part, because it costs much money to build as modern city office and other buildings are built—of steel, concrete, heavy stone, planned to endure certain calculated strains. But it is also due to the fact that there is a widespread belief that it is impossible to put up buildings that cannot be destroyed by the wind.

Granting that, in rare instances, tremendous twisting winds might wreck even a modern skyscraper, there can be no doubt that stronger construction would save many a building in windstorms of sufficient pressure to throw down the kind of buildings now common. In the ordinary wooden house, no bolts are used. The two by four scantling is the timber used as a stringer for the thin boards of the walls, and the 10-penny nail is the strongest binding appliance. Such a building cannot stand anything more than a slight strain.

It would be better to build smaller buildings, scientifically planned to resist wind pressure and made of such materials as steel and cement, on the skyscraper plan, than to continue to put up the cheap, weak, fire-trap and storm-trap structures that now cause such loss of life.

ROSTAND'S ODE TO THE FLAG.

If the recent crop of war poetry has been disappointing, the impassioned ode to the American flag by Edmond Rostand, the great French poet, goes far to make amends. The intoxication of emotion, the spirit of exaltation, the high, fervent appeal to the passion of patriotism which have been conspicuously absent from its English contemporaries are present in this one which the singer calls "The Song of the Stars—the Starry Flag."

The conception of a flag that clung close to its mast when all that means Prussian militarism is mentioned, but streamed forth in glory at the call of democracy, is another expression of the genius which conceived "Chantecler." An enraged Boche is made to cut the starry field out of it, but when France is again named, once more the flag straightens out in the breeze. The missing blue is supplied by the blue of the heavens and the missing stars by the planets themselves.

Another star, on the blue field's edge,
Sang, "Present, all, in this blazoned pledge—
"Save one to the heart of Wilson lent,
"A lamp for his soul which God hath sent!"

The translation is not, of course, perfect, but it catches at the meaning. The poem is one which even translation into foreign tongue cannot mar.

1860-1917.

A SUGGESTED RUSSIAN NATIONAL ANTHEM.

ALL bonds have we torn off our arms,
Struck Serfdom's final hour,
And raised the flag of liberty
O'er Russia's glorious power.
United stand we 'neath that flag
In God's most radiant light.
Resistless now in Power for Good,
For Justice and for Right.

One people we! Now, Freedom's sons!
On watch by day, by night,
To guard our land from evil Power
And keep it in the Right.
No fear of shackles move we have,
Love's bonds alone we know:
For sons of Freedom are we all
Where e'er God's winds may blow.

May tyrants tremble at our Power
Without, within our land,
For voice betide each dastard crew
That comes with chain and brand.
And subtle evils of the Night
That seek to scale our Walls
Beware our wrath and righteous Might
When Russia's Freedom calls—

CHORUS.
On watch! On guard!
We stand to ward
Our glorious Land from Wrong.
Our flag o'er all
Shall float nor fall
While we sing Freedom's Song.
H. CARROLL ALFORD.

The strength of the bi-carrier form of lawmaking seems to be that no two effective speeches are ever made on the same subject. We have been considering the possibility that this is so for some little time, and have finally been convinced of it by the career of the war tax bill. We know the Senate, which refuses to pass this bill as it came from the House, is not more conservative than the House. What, then, is the explanation of its refusal to accept the House recommendations? Only this, that something was said in the House that has not been said in the Senate. Fortunately, we do not know what that particular thing was. The founders of the government knew we wouldn't know when they adopted this means of being sure we wouldn't. Where are you, Selah?

A man in Scranton, Pa., sends us a copy of his magazine, which carries the following at the mast-head:

This magazine will undertake to preach a few truths that will make you feel tiptop and at the same time raise your wages to $5000 a year if you are not already getting that much.

However, after looking it through and seeing nothing better than hard work offered as a means of reaching the coveted goal, we concluded that the editor is at the disadvantage of probably knowing what he is talking about.

While the Russians are demonstrating the impracticability of socialism, it is going to be a pity if they do not try out the entire list of things which are supposed by so many people to be the keys to happiness. In her present condition, it could not do Russia any great harm to try out the single tax and the short ballot, anyway.

The story that the Germans make lubricants of the dead picked up on the Western Front runs pretty consistently in publications claiming to be getting things the big dailies are not getting. A nice fresh graveyard is a great temptation to one working along in the wake of the big dailies.

THE FLAG GOES BY.

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums.
A flash of color beneath the sky;
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!

Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines,
Hats off!
The colors before us fly;
But more than the flag is passing by:

Sign of a nation, great and strong
To ward her people from foreign wrong.
Pride and glory and honor—all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums;
And loyal hearts are beating high;
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!

HENRY HOLCOMBE BENNETT.

CHICAGO FIELD FOR ARMY FLYING
Have 28 100-Horsepower Machines and Nine Instructors on Detail.
Five Months Required
Put to Difficult Tests Before They are Qualified and Receive Commissions.
CHICAGO, May 29.—One of the busiest centers of activity just now in connection with the training of men for service in the United States army is the aviation field at Ashburn, a part of Chicago about 12 miles southwest of the central part of the city. At this station some 28 biplanes are being taught how to manipulate and fly. Nine instructors have been detailed on this work. Twenty-eight machines, each of 100-horsepower, are in use.

The aviation field is a plot one mile square, as smooth and level as a tabletop, and with no trees or other obstructions to handicap the flyers. At present no living quarters for the men in training have been built, but they are being planned and will be built soon, or the time being the aviation students are finding homes at lodging houses and in private residences in the neighborhood. Nearly all of those who are fitting themselves at Ashburn for commissions in the aviation section of the Signal Corps of the Central Department, U. S. army, are from Chicago. All are within the age limits of 21 to 31. Capt. J. C. Morrow, who is a member of the aviation section of the Signal Corps and is Chief Instructional Officer of the Central Department, says that the men are of a uniformly fine type, that they relish their work and have shown a splendid patriotic spirit in applying for enlistment, as many of them have left positions with big business concerns or have foregone finishing college work.

Six More Stations to Open.
The Chicago Aviation School is for men seeking commissions in the Reserve Corps of signal officers. Beside the station at Ashburn, one is operated at Mineola, Long Island. Six more stations are being equipped and will be in various sections of the country within a few weeks. These stations will train men only for the Reserve Corps, the training station for regular army men is at San Diego, Cal.

In charge of the Chicago station are Capt. Arthur Christ and two assistants, Capt. Ralph Royce and Capt. R. S. Brown. All are officers in the aviation section of the Signal Corps, United States army.

The men who are under training at Ashburn are given about six hours of instruction in flying, divided into lessons of about 20 minutes at a time, before they fly over the training field. The student-aviator sits in front, his instructor close behind him. There are two sets of controls on each airplane and if the untrained man handles his levers wrong, the skilled hand of the instructor corrects the error at once by using the auxiliary controls. After the student has had his full six hours of experimental training, in the short periods, he is "turned loose," as the aviators say, to finish his aerial education unaccompanied by an instructor.

The men have shown great receptivity and have soon been able to take care of themselves, according to Capt. Morrow. He explained that the daily flying periods were made brief because experience has taught that as much, or more, could be learned in this manner, and could be learned in longer periods and because it had been learned that in other ways the short period accomplished more.

The term necessary for study and practice before the student is ready for flight is about five months. The greater number of those now at the Chicago training station have already had about two months' schooling.

The men in which they will have to "make good" before they will be accepted in the reserve are: Climb out of a field 2000 feet square and attain an altitude of 500 feet, keeping all parts of the machine inside the circle during the climb; make a steep climb at normal angle with motor shut off, spiral to right and left, and change direction of sliding. Cut off motor at 1000 feet altitude and within 200 feet of a designated point.

Land over an imaginary obstacle 10 feet high and come to rest within 1500 feet of it.

The Post-Dispatch
Daily Short StoryA Miss Is as Good a Mile

By May Fink.

LYDA beckoned vigorously to her friend and came around to see if the floor walker might be watching. Sadie left her counter and hurried over to where Lyda stood, behind the men's glove counter, to see what might be of so much importance that it couldn't wait until lunchtime.

"Say, hon, did you happen to notice that swell fella that was just now buying a pair of gloves?" Lyda inquired, throwing her arm lovingly about her friend's waist.

"Notice him? Well, I rather think I did, and I'd just like for you to show me a person in this department that hasn't noticed him hanging around here. I think that must be the nine hundred and ninety-ninth pair of gloves he has bought from you inside of the last week. Harry Adams is absolutely turning green with jealousy since that guy has been coming in here."

"As far as Harry Adams is concerned," responded Lyda, "I should worry; but I just wanted to inform you that the swell gentleman originally mentioned is Mr. Walter Nelson Jr., him being the only son of a multimillionaire, and as long as I can keep a fella like that kinda attentive it doesn't worry me much what a common assistant floor-walker might happen to think about it."

"What do you mean, 'kinda attentive'?" inquired the now very much interested Sadie.

"Well, that was what I called you over here to tell you. Now, you know, hon, that I am pretty particular about who I go out with, and when Mr. Nelson first started coming in here I treated him just exactly like I do all the rest of the fresh guys that try to make dates with me, but I really have Walter—Mr. Nelson, I mean—kinda likes me."

"Now, listen," she hurried on, as her friend started to interrupt. "I know you're going to say that I'd better be careful, and that these rich guys never are in earnest about liking a working girl, but Mr. Nelson has been coming in here for over a week, and he has always treated me just as respectful as if I was a rich girl of his own class. Besides, only this morning I read in the paper where a millionaire's son married a working girl, just because he loved her, and according to my way of thinking, what has happened can happen again."

"Well, Lyda Thomas, do you mean to tell me that after all your preaching against such things, you're really going to let a fella take you out that you never met except over a glove counter, and don't know a thing about?" exclaimed Sadie.

"I am very sorry, Miss Smith, that you don't approve of my actions," and Lyda drew herself up haughtily, "but at present I don't know anybody that cares if you do or not." Then, as her friend turned angrily away, "And if you happen to be talking to Harry Adams, you can tell him for me that I don't care for his company tonight. Mr. Nelson and myself are going out for a little drive in his machine."

Lyda had repeated her angry words long before the day was over, and as the two girls were leaving the store that evening she caught Sadie by the arm.

"Now, please don't be mad, sweetie, you know I don't mean half of what I say," she begged. "Listen, hon, if you don't happen to be busy right after supper, suppose you drop in at this house and see how you think I look all dressed up. I've got a brand-new dress for this evening."

"Of course," responded Sadie. "You know I couldn't stay mad at you if I wanted to. Alright, I'll come by and give you my expert opinion on how you look this evening; but I wish, Lyda, darling, that it was Harry Adams who was dressing up for instead of that Nelson guy."

That evening when Sadie stopped at Lyda's home it was very quiet to her that Lyda had but recently wiped the tears from her now extremely red eyes. However, being a rather wise young lady, Sadie did not comment unfavorably upon her friend's appearance.

"That sure is a swell dress, Lyda, and is mighty becoming to you," she began, but Lyda interrupted:

"Did you tell Harry what I said about him not coming over this evening?" she inquired anxiously.

"Goodness! I forgot all about it," Lyda said.

"It's just as well that you didn't, then. I've changed my mind about going out with that Nelson fella. I just now phoned him not to bother about coming. He's a 'Harry' now. Will you go to the door, Sadie, while I run and powder this face."

One day there came to the King's gates an old beggar man who asked for a night's lodging and food.

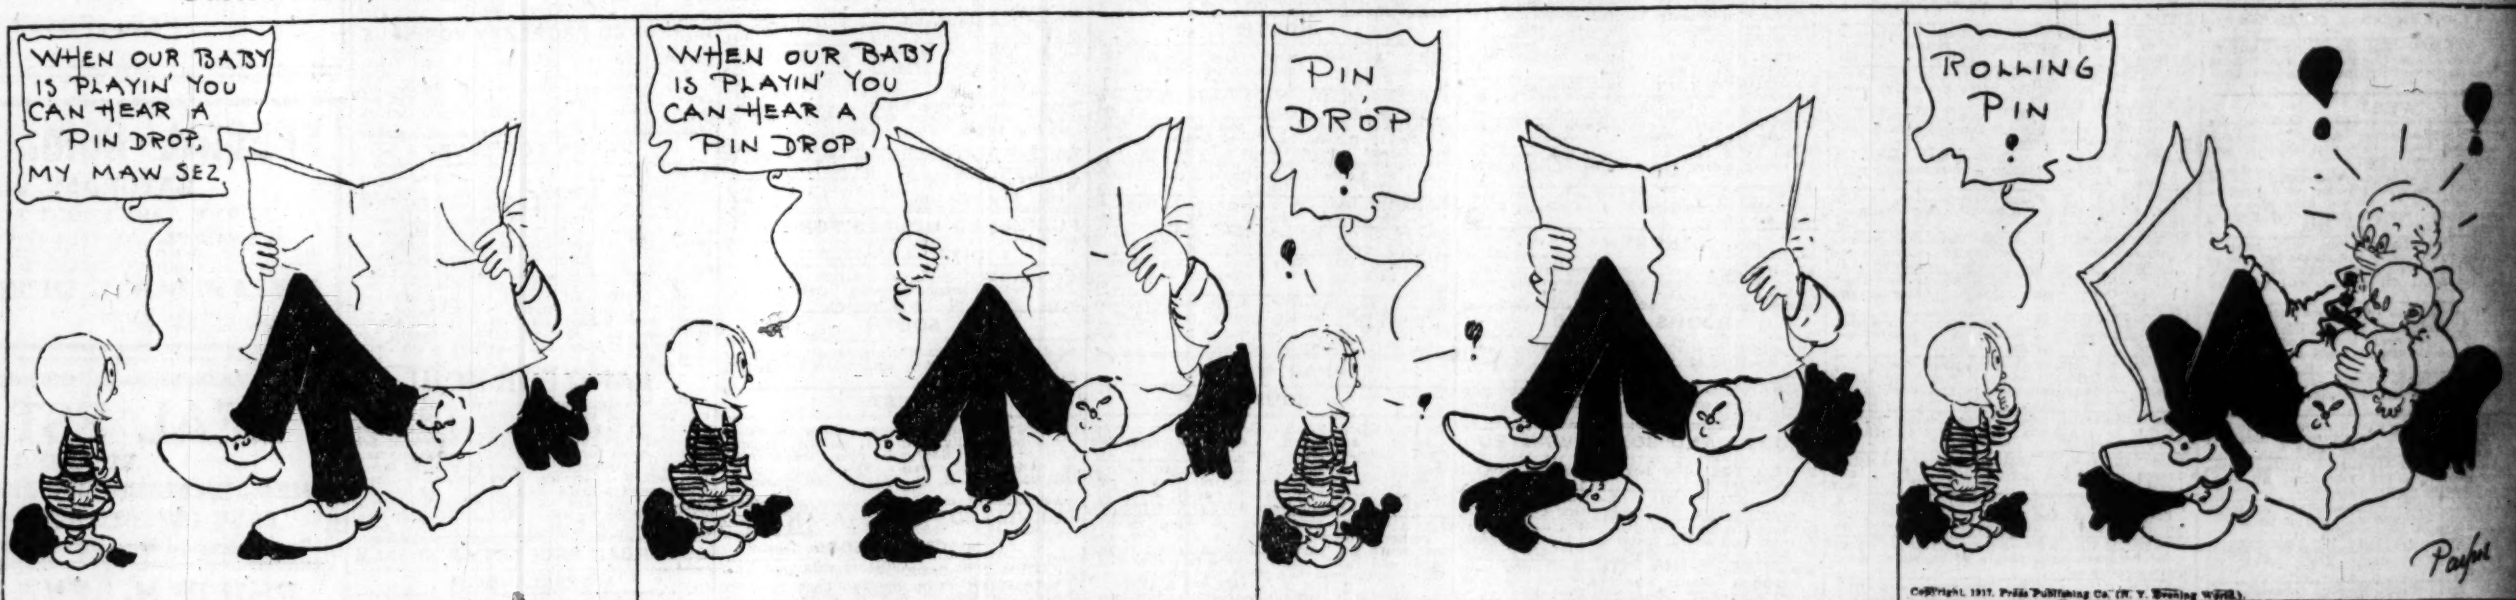

The brothers were standing near and Stephen told the servants to close the gates and an old beggar man who asked for a night's lodging and food.

"Stop," said Nardo to the servant, "a palace is just the place for beggars. Brother, we have a plenty and to spare; let the poor man enter."

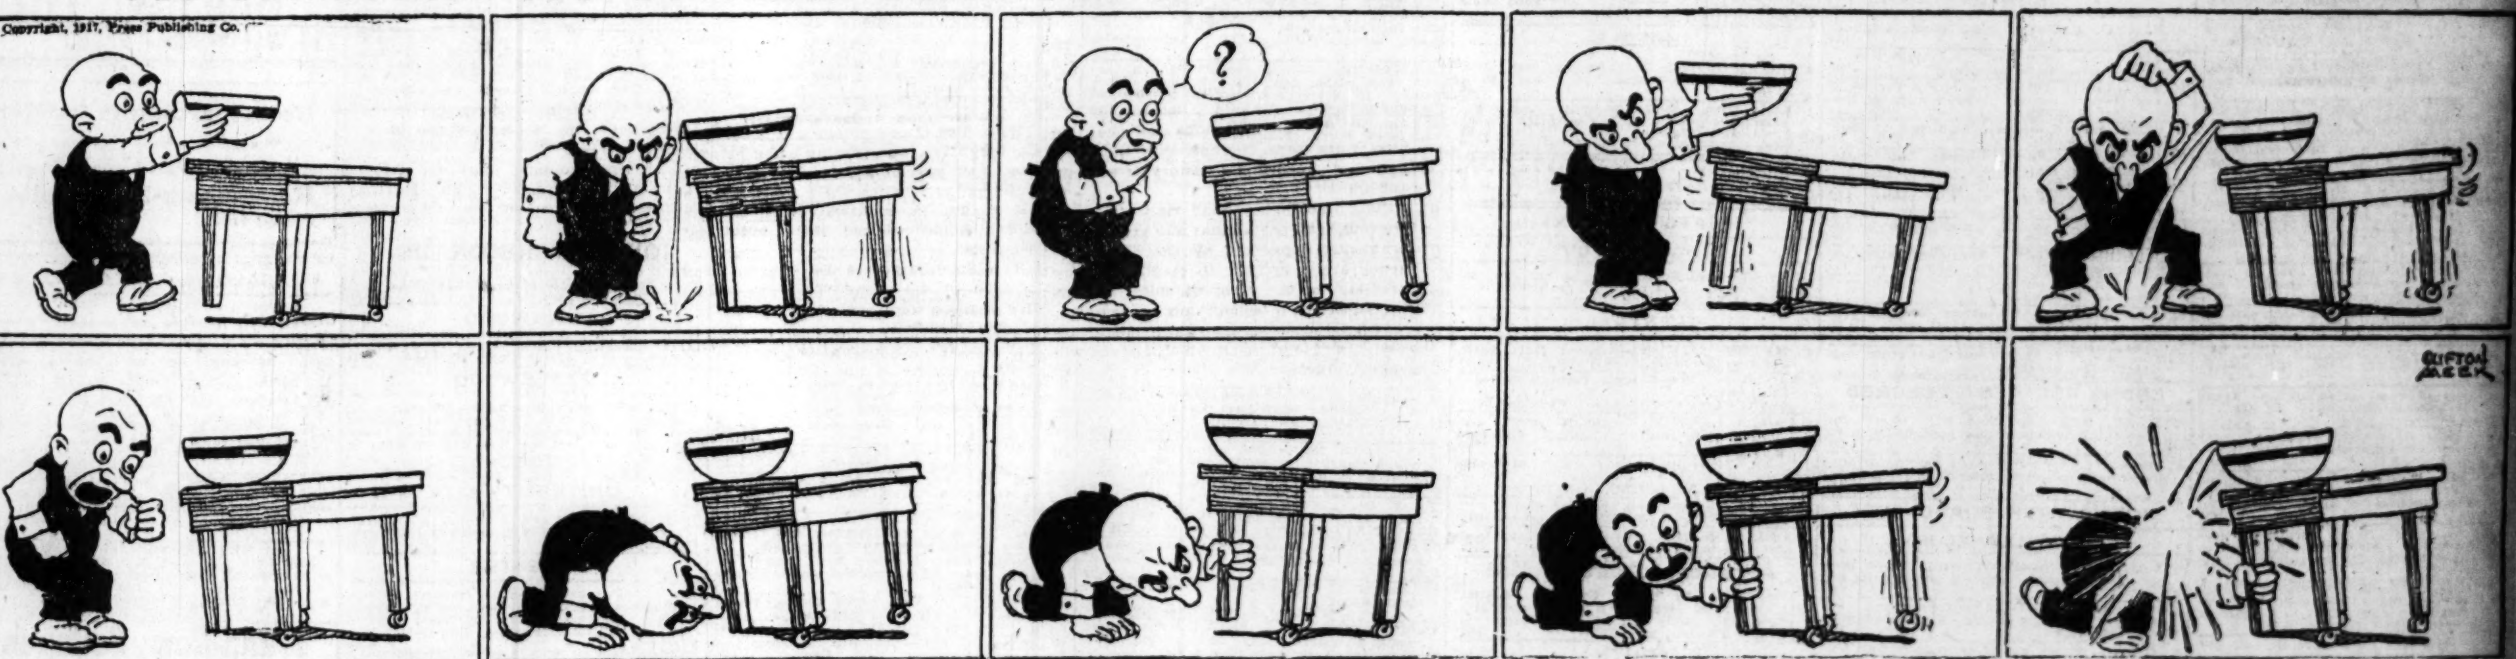

The beggar thanked Nardo and said: "You shall never regret your kindness. Wear this ring and whenever you wish for something money cannot buy you shall have your wish."

red nose of mine?"

As Sadie started to the door, she noticed the evening paper lying open on the hall table. She also noticed that the paper was open at the "Society Notes." Grabbing it up hastily, she read the following:

"At a dinner-party last evening, Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand Gardner announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret, to Mr. Walter Nelson, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson, Sr., of Fifth Avenue. The exact date of the wedding has not been set, but it will be some time in June."

"All's well that ends well," said Sadie.

strong as Stephen; there was no way to get the ring from off his finger unless he took it by force or could get some witch to weave a spell over him.

And all this time the beautiful Princess was in love with Nardo. Had he only known it he needed no magic ring to win her love for him.

One night after trying in vain to get the ring Stephen went to an old witch who lived in a cave by the sea and asked her to set the ring for him, promising to make her rich if she would get it for him.

The old witch was greedy for gold so one night while Nardo slept she crept into the palace, aided by the wicked Stephen, and cast a spell over Nardo, which made him forget the ring and also his love for the beautiful Princess. Stephen, with the ring on his finger, felt that all was easy now, and he promptly forgot all about the old witch and the gold he promised her.

The beautiful Princess looked with sad eyes upon the now cold and indifferent Nardo, and while she did not love Stephen, she felt each day that she was being drawn to him, though she knew well enough she did not love anyone but Nardo.

The old witch, however, helped the Princess out of part of her troubles, for when she found that Stephen did not intend to give her the gold she waited for him one day in the palace grounds hidden behind a clump of bushes, and when he came out for a walk she pointed her lean fingers at him and placed him under a spell, which made him follow her to her cave by the sea.

Here she chained him to a rock and put a dragon to watch that he did not escape, but while the Princess escaped, marrying Stephen he still possessed the ring which kept Nardo from remembering he had ever loved the Princess, because it was for her he had wished.

One night when the Princess was sitting in her window looking at the moon and sighing over her lost lover and his love, she saw a nightingale caught by its wing in a tree.

The tree was so close that the Princess had only to reach out and rescue the poor bird and set it free.

The nightingale in gratitude for its life began to sing so sweetly that the Princess exclaimed: "Oh! sing each night by my window, beautiful bird, that I may for a little while at least forget my sorrow."

The hour of midnight was just then striking, and, to her surprise, the Princess saw as the last stroke of 12 died away the nightingale change into a fairy.

"I am powerless to use my magic until the hour of midnight strikes," said the little fairy. "I have chosen to be a nightingale until then, and the Queen will not give me the power of a fairy until I change my form to one."

"Now whadya think of that? Here he drops in ostensibly to cut in on the rich food supply and right away begins to talk of his personalities. Well, I was mad, and I don't get that way very often."

"Very good, sir," comes from little me. "You skidded into the right place. What will you and me fill 'em with? We got some pretty reliable corned beef hash and—"

"Nix!" he tells me. "I mean I got to go to a dentist."

"Now whadya think of that? Here he drops in ostensibly to cut in on the rich food supply and right away begins to talk of his personalities. Well, I was mad, and I don't get that way very often."

"Look me over, Oswald," I says. "Do I resemble a dentist's patient?"

"Not at all," he reverberates. "I was just contemplating about myself."

"Very good, in fact, excellent!" I says. "Now, let's stroll along the food lane and grab something off quick. There's other victims present waiting for the attention of the little lady in white."

"He seems like as if he don't hear me," Gae, he says, shaking his head.

"Well, brother, can you imagine me? There I am waiting like a modern patient Jane of Arch and he goes right on rambling about his physic aches and pains. I force a grin.

"Begging pardon!" comes from me, "but would you mind being more explicit?"

"When They Had Them."

BILL: Do you have prunes at your boarding house?

Gill: Sure.

"Do you have 'em for breakfast first or last?"

"Why, we have 'em first, last and all the time."

"HAVEN'T got much use for people who talk about themselves personally in public," said Lucille, the waitress, as the friendly patron took a seat at the lunch counter.

"You don't like to hear self-praise, eh?" was his comment.

"Not that," she replied. "I mean people who lecture too much on their personal effects and defects. I had to wait on one today. He no sooner gets his elbow on the counter than I'm right before him like an apparition in the night. He looks up and says: 'Well, I got to get some teeth filled.'"

Cautious Mourner.

WALKING through the village street one day, the widowed Lady Bountiful met old Farmer Stubbs on his way to market. Her greeting went unnoticed.

"Stubbs," said she, indignantly, "You might at least raise your hat to me!"

"I beg your pardon, m'lady," was the reply, "but my poor wife ain't dead more'n two weeks, and I ain't started lookin' at the wimmen yet!"

An Experience Meeting.

JOE Stein, of St. Louis, divorced for wife-abandonment, is serving two years in jail for the same reason. Thomas Wagner, who married the former Mrs. Stein, has been sent to jail for non-support. Stein and Wagner occupy the same cell.

Anxious.

CREWE—"Good heavens how it rains! I feel awfully anxious about my wife. She's gone out without an umbrella."

Drew: Oh, she'll be all right. She'll take shelter in some shop.

Crewe: Exactly. That's what makes me so anxious.

Considered the Truth.

MR. MOVIE: I see the war census takers are going to ask women how old they are.

Mrs. Movie: So I see.

"And will you tell them the truth?"

"I will. I'll tell 'em it's none of their business."

Never tell a fat girl that she's all wool and a yard wide. She may shrink at the naked truth.
